America's Promise

Idaho's Promise Youth License Plate

In 2000, Idaho was the first state to create the America's Promise Youth license plate to honor young people and to fulfill a commitment to retired General Colin Powell, past chair of "America's Promise Alliance."

About the Youth license plate

- » Proceeds stay in the county where the plates are sold – more than 70 percent of the initial fee and 60 percent of the renewal fee.
- » Funds are used exclusively to administer the Idaho Promise program and fund at-risk youth programs that offer activities during non-school hours.

To get your licence plate

- » Go to your local Department of Motor Vehicles office and ask for the Youth plate.
- or
- » Purchase it online at the Idaho Transportation Department specialty plates page.

$35 - initial cost

$25 - annual renewal

Community organizations that offer prevention and early intervention programs for Idaho's at-risk youth may request funds from their local sheriff's office.

About Idaho's Promise

Our goal

Help reduce drug and alcohol abuse, gang activity and school dropouts.

Our mission
